

Privacy policy

ABC Hosting Ltd. doing business as HIT.ng (the “HIT.ng”) operates the website <https://www.hit.ng> (the “Site”).

This document informs you of our policies regarding the collection, use and disclosure of Personal Information we receive from users of our service. We want you to understand how we use your Personal Information, that is why we recommend you to get acknowledged with this document.

HIT.ng ensures the full protection of Personal Information of their clients and visitors. We do not collect any Personal Information about Site visitors, except for cases when visitors gave information by choice, and except for cases which listed below in this document.

HIT.ng does not sell or share the visitors and clients Personal Information to third persons or other organizations.

We have setup the Site thus visitors could visit it without providing any Personal Information about themselves. But, like many other websites, our website uses “cookies” to collect information. You can instruct your browser to refuse all cookies or to indicate when a cookie is being sent.

When our current and future customers and partners provide us their Personal Information (or any information by which they can be identified), they can be sure that it will be used solely to support their relations with HIT.ng. We may use your Personal Information to contact you, send you newsletters, marketing or promotional materials and other information. We also use your Personal Information to operate with payments you have made.

HIT.ng takes all possible security measures to prevent the loss, unlawful use or alteration of the information provided by clients. When an user pays for our services online, his Personal Information including credit card number is protected by a Secure Socket Layer protocol (SSL). It is a computer networking protocol for securing connections between network application clients and servers over an insecure network, such as the Internet. The security of your Personal Information is important to us, but remember that no method of transmission over the Internet, or method of electronic storage, is 100% secure. While we strive to use commercially acceptable means to protect your Personal Information, we cannot guarantee its absolute security.

HIT.ng reserves the right to modify this Privacy Policy any time by posting changes on the site. We recommend you to check if there was any change made to our Privacy Policy from time to time because if the client initially agreed with this Policy and continues to use our services after we have made changes, it is considered that client automatically accepts those changes.

If you have any questions or concerns about our Privacy Policy, please contact us: support{at}hit.ng.
